Coaches

Coaches must remain optimistic when being beaten by 25 points and tell the other players on the team that only 5 can play at a time. The team's success depends on this one man. His job isn't easy, but it's rewarding.

Managers

Basketball

Ken Chapman
Whether going all out in practice, or giving encouragement during the games, Ken added by his maximum effort.

Craig Christensen
Craig's unusual finesse and quickness weren't easily ignored by the coaches. He broke into the State lineup.

Paul Condie
Coming from a long line of Highland ball players, Paul developed his uniqueness by his accurate hook shot.

Stewart Hewlett
Hewlett was a dead-eye from the outside and drove to the glass with a tenacity that amazed everyone but himself.

John Hogan
As a third of the Hogans, John wears a yellow garter on his ankle. If we mixed him up with Tom — sorry.

Rich Hogan
Rich didn't start playing basketball until the 9th grade. We are awful glad for his black high-tops.

Tom Hogan
As a third of the Hogans, Tom wears a yellow garter on his ankle. If we mixed him up with John — sorry.

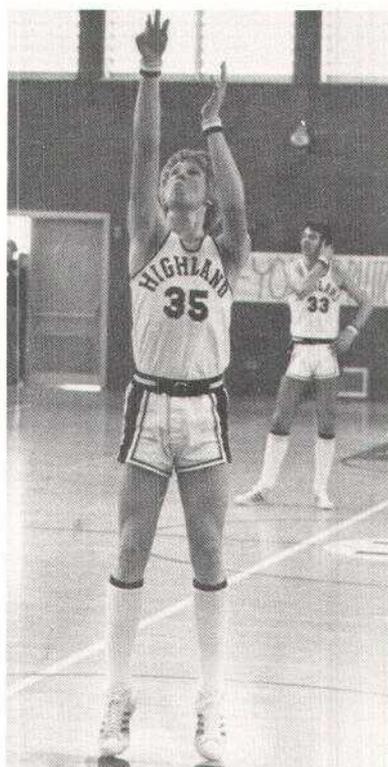

The Coach concentrated more on his talent than what his talent looked like, and it paid off with a solid pre-season record, and a tight battle for the region title. The feared Highland Press, and Mr. Palmer pleading for more spirit characterized the season. The state tournament saw us come within seconds of consolation championship. Highland basketball justified a show of spirit.

Jeff Judkins
 Jeff was the glue on the team. Defense, rebounding, and his machine-like scoring made him all-State.

Mark Nielsen
 Behind the back passes, over the head lay-ups, and muscle underneath the boards were the "key" to Nitch.

Gary Plant
 Plant gave the team a good deal of depth as he came in to add a little weight in the middle of the defense.

Scott Rawlings
 "Rawls" set the team record for rebounds but "cute" Scott would rather be known for his likeness to Mark Spitz.

Mark Nielsen
Captain
Scott Rawlings
Captain

Ken Sowby
Sowby was always in motion, usually on the right part of the bench, and never late for practice.

Bob Weidner
Bob can scratch the bottom of his arch while standing up straight. Highland has a lot of rebounds ahead.

Scott Wood
Scotty's human jaw radiated his enthusiasm on the court. He had the guts to go along with the program.

Rob Young
Rob showed a lot of promise by his quickness and hustle on the court and his attitude towards the team while off it.

The novelty of playing soccer may have something to do with taking advantage of a spring day in Sugarhouse Park . . . these men pride themselves with shins of steel, twinkle toes, and scissor kicks. This summer found football players absorbing spikes, tackling dummies, and Mr. Polychronis. As the fans came to see the fruits of long hours of practice, they saw that a few different kinds of fumbles or intercepted passes could have made the team jell. But that only takes into account the score. We still had half-time and popcorn.

"I am Woman" — these are the cries of power that can be heard in any of the girls' athletic games. Who said that "it's a man's world?" Anyone who watched these displays of grace, agility, exertion, and co-ordination have a personal conviction that happy "Sweet Baby Jane" 'is alive and living on the court as well as in the kitchen.

Swim

Famous for the longest and toughest work-outs in athletics, swim team members found their place in a pair of noseplugs and the breast stroke. Preseason meets sharpened their stamina, and entitled them to the most wins in Highland's sports year. If such a thing exists, they were glad to be in the uniform of the Ram.

Track and field events require a versatile command of basic skills. The long-distance runner must combine speed with endurance. The hurler of the javelin must co-ordinate his movements and exert his maximum strength at just the right time. It doesn't matter that track isn't a spectator sport. These athletes commit to themselves.

Tennis

When these boys learned to play tennis they found out what "love" was all about. Working under the sun, they "served" their very best — even when it caused a "racket." These are our aces . . . the tennis team. (They "netted" a lot of victories.)

Skiers bring together a variety of traits as they jet through a series of gates. Through their combination of agility, co-ordination, and strength, our skiers have shown us that there is more to skiing than getting out of school. The big meet of the year, the Knudsen Cup, once again proved the Rams' competitive spirit.

Intramurals

Intramurals are such fun.
They make rejects run, run, run.
Pick a name to claim your fame
and hear Coach holler shame, shame, shame.
Grab your shorts and sneakers too,
Intramurals are for you.

Activities

Hello Day

Returning from the heat of the summer, we oriented ourselves to the life of a student once again.

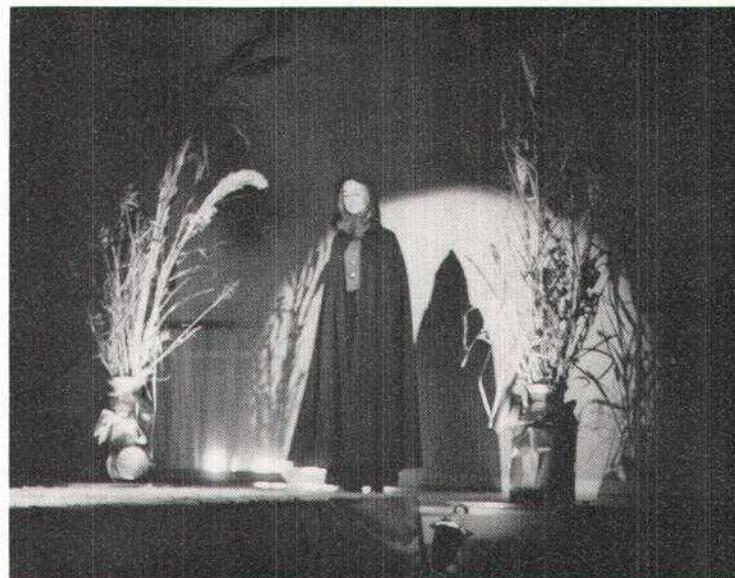

As slides flashed back familiar sights, we sat a little taller, yelled a little louder and found that "together we're won!"

Pre-School Rally

H. A. W. Fashion Show

We all know what happens when the ladies get together — it's what the men don't know that makes us laugh. What could be a better excuse to meet secretly than a lovely fashion show to accompany our juicy tidbits? Attraction to "Barbie's Fashion Shop" at a very young age is just one of the reasons why the H.A.W. Fashion Show is such a treat.

Homecoming

Homecoming . . . our chance to remember the 'ole "has-beens." Never getting half the jokes because they were "before our time" we watched and listened. Could you believe all those babies? Why, one would think it was time for show and tell. Maybe it was because behind the forgotten faces, "Highlanders" are quietly going back to their own "Reign of the Ram." It's hard to know the feeling, except that we'll be sitting with them, someday.

Stomps

More people come to stomps in stranger ways than any other event. Once, two people were dressed in the same basketball uniform. Sometimes a lot of girls will get together and try to waltz while square dancing. Strawberry Hill has been known to make the scene disguised as a Wyoming Cowboy. But, the most unique spectacle ever beheld at a stomp was when Mr. Palmer was dancing with Miss Harvey?

Dances

What could be more thrilling than getting all dressed up for a lovely social affair such as a high school dance? Elements of these activities include tripping over your date, cute pink punch, and perhaps a little chat with friends about the weather. After, if you are especially fortunate, you might get a bite to eat at McDonald's and the usual doorstep shaft.

Hello, Dolly!

If high school could receive Academy Awards, we certainly would be deserving of one this year. Under the direction of Mr. Allred, the drama department put together, perfected and lived, the lines of Hello, Dolly! To the cast it was more than just a round of applause, it was a hard, trying accomplishment that came across only because they felt it in everything they did. As Dolly Levi once said, "I'm waiting for that sign . . ." She got it, and so did we — the sign of traditional talent!

Mini-Course Week

After we had completed one week of learning how to knit scarves for dogs, play checkers with chessmen, and compute the odds of striking it rich in Las Vegas, one question still remained: would the administration, or would it it not, grant unconditional amnesty to all sluffers?

To hear the administration, your advisor, and your math, history and independent study teachers talk, you would think every day was Senior Sluff Day. But, like many things, that's just not true . . . Some days were Senior Home Excuse and/or Excusal List Day.

Dance Concert

The finished product, "In Company of Dance" began with an idea, moved into calculated steps and finished with a projected feeling. As we experimented with a new art, our minds were led to wander through the sensitive channels of dance.

Freak East Farmer Day 50's

Incense was lit and an entire school turned into a band of freaks. East was freaked when the curling irons and Crozier's brush went wild. Then, we dug out our overalls and milking stools. There were some injuries from pitchforks, but the Granite Farmers really bit the dust. And finally, the scene turned to the 50's when Highland grooved on "You Ain't Nothing but a Hound Dog"

Assemblies

Assemblies seemed to break the monotony of a regular classroom day, especially when it enabled us to stay in bed an extra hour that morning! The times we did make it, our imagination was tested, with bits of dry humor and creative cliches. The entertainment circle this year spotlighted everything from Chico Rayez's "What's My Line" to a cultural exchange from the Utah Symphony and Ballet West. Our sanity was spared, thanks to the daily bulletin, "Assembly Today!"

Assemblies

The act of portraying sensitive characters in front of an intimate audience is a scene with which people are both amazed and entertained. Mastering the tiniest details from body movements to voice inflections, Highland's actors continue to draw a "review of excellence" for being the best.

The Corn is Green

Elections

When the majority of Highlanders start getting "spring fever," a handful of brave politicians get the urge to find a cure for it. Hard work and hours of brainstorming go into finding the perfect formula for the various diseases. The most important thing, however, is that it works for them. Elections are a time when we find out what we are in all situations. The selling of oneself — what exactly do the "buyers" want? No one really knows except that the end product is you. . . .

Yearbook Day

Yearbook Day — 48 hours associated with writer's cramp and aching buns, pieces of sentiment (some sincere, some not-so-sincere) and occasionally a few "graduating seniors" turning up fully dressed in the coveted caps and gowns. This beautiful spring day always seems a bit ironic, for when we stop to think about the memories that mean so much to us and the people that fit into them . . . our thoughts are warm.

Farewell Assembly

What do you say to an old friend as ground that you've shared for so long starts slipping out from under you? Like every transition, it's hard to accept, but our strength lies deep in the treasured days of Algebra and English.

To be interested in the changing seasons is a happier state of mind than to be hopelessly in love with spring.

— George Santayana

In Memoriam

JOHN SAXTON

I would not exchange the sorrows of my heart for the joys of the multitude. And I would not have the tears that sadness makes to flow from my every part turn into laughter. I would that my life remain a tear and a smile.

— Kahil Gibran

The day was whispering to me, telling me the secrets of my experience. But, I missed it waiting for the shouts I thought should come after something that big time. I wonder what I'm missing today?

Silent afterthoughts...

These things do not live for me but. because they are...

No one really knew me —
Distorted realities.
Confusing understandings.
And . . . walks around the block past midnight.
They should have been smooth.

No one really knew me —
But wait . . . surfaces might not deceive; you did.

I am.

In Appreciation

After all . . .

we sat back and took notice of all the things we didn't take time to notice before.

Surface acquaintances became valuable friendships.
Regrets became a growing experience.
And a dream became reality.

Thank-you's too often went unsaid. Our sincere gratitude to Peggy Quist for her tolerance and concern, to Wheelwrights for their perfection in workmanship, to Tim and Lori Hammond for their generosity, to Colby Smith and Mark Wagner who came to our rescue.
But to the staff who gave more than they realized, and received more than they ever thought possible, their thank-you lies in the meaning they found in Beyond Ourselves.
